7th grade - Afternoon

Special thanks to:

All the students from the 7th grade, afternoon group, from Christus school (Dionísio Torres), and their families and teachers for all the support and effort towards making this book possible.

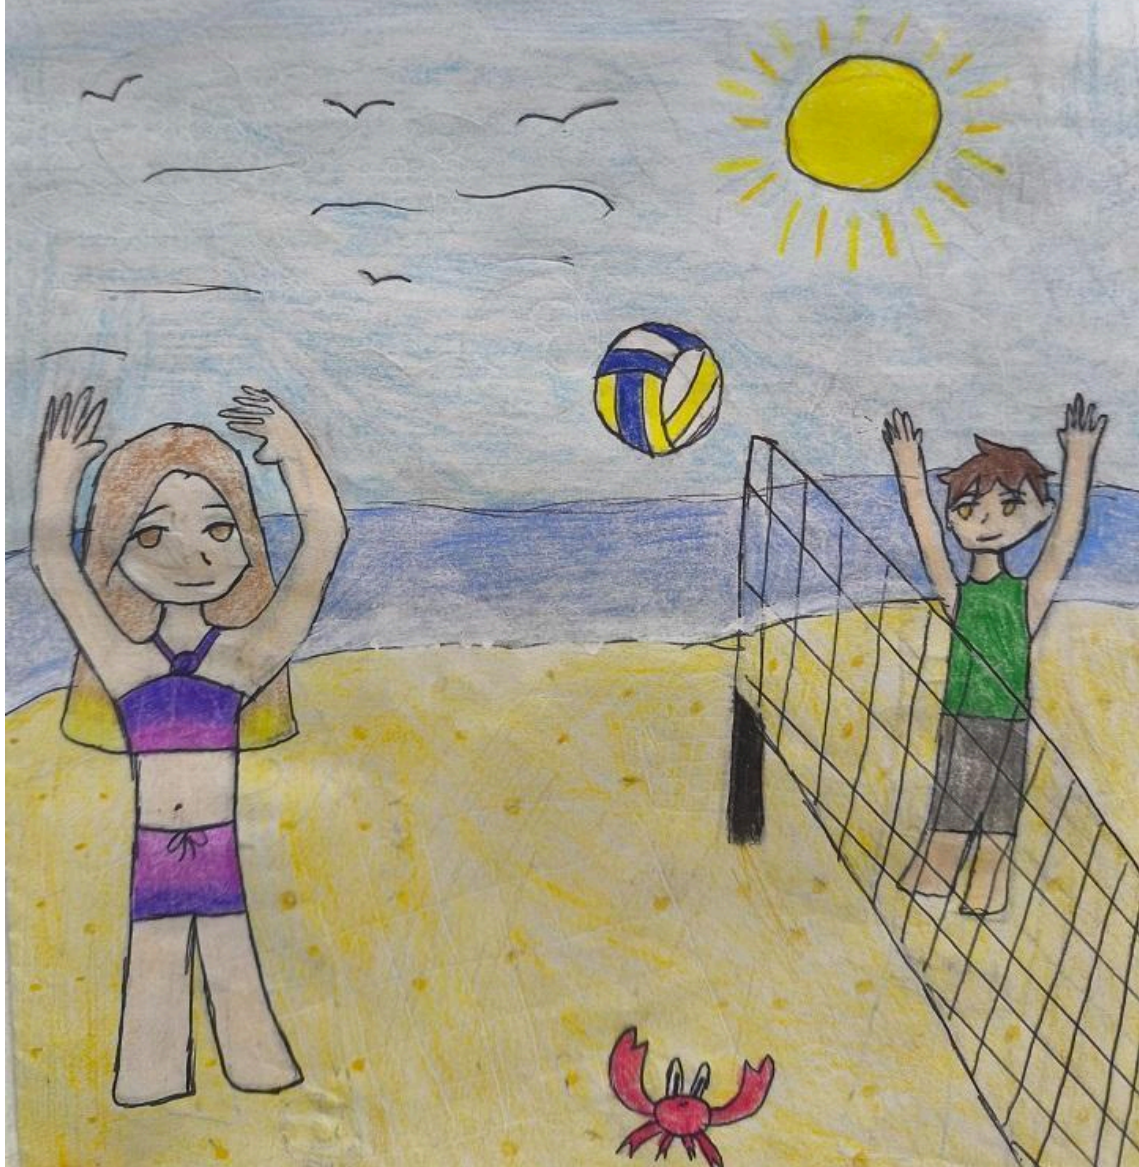

During the 2015 mid-year holidays, a family traveled to the USA for spring. The father, João, and the mother, Bárbara, planned a family picnic. At the picnic, they met Spring and talked to her:

- Hello spring, what happens in your season? - Asked the brother, Lucas.
- In my time, everything blooms in colorful tones. I make the city more beautiful. - Spring replied the Lucas.

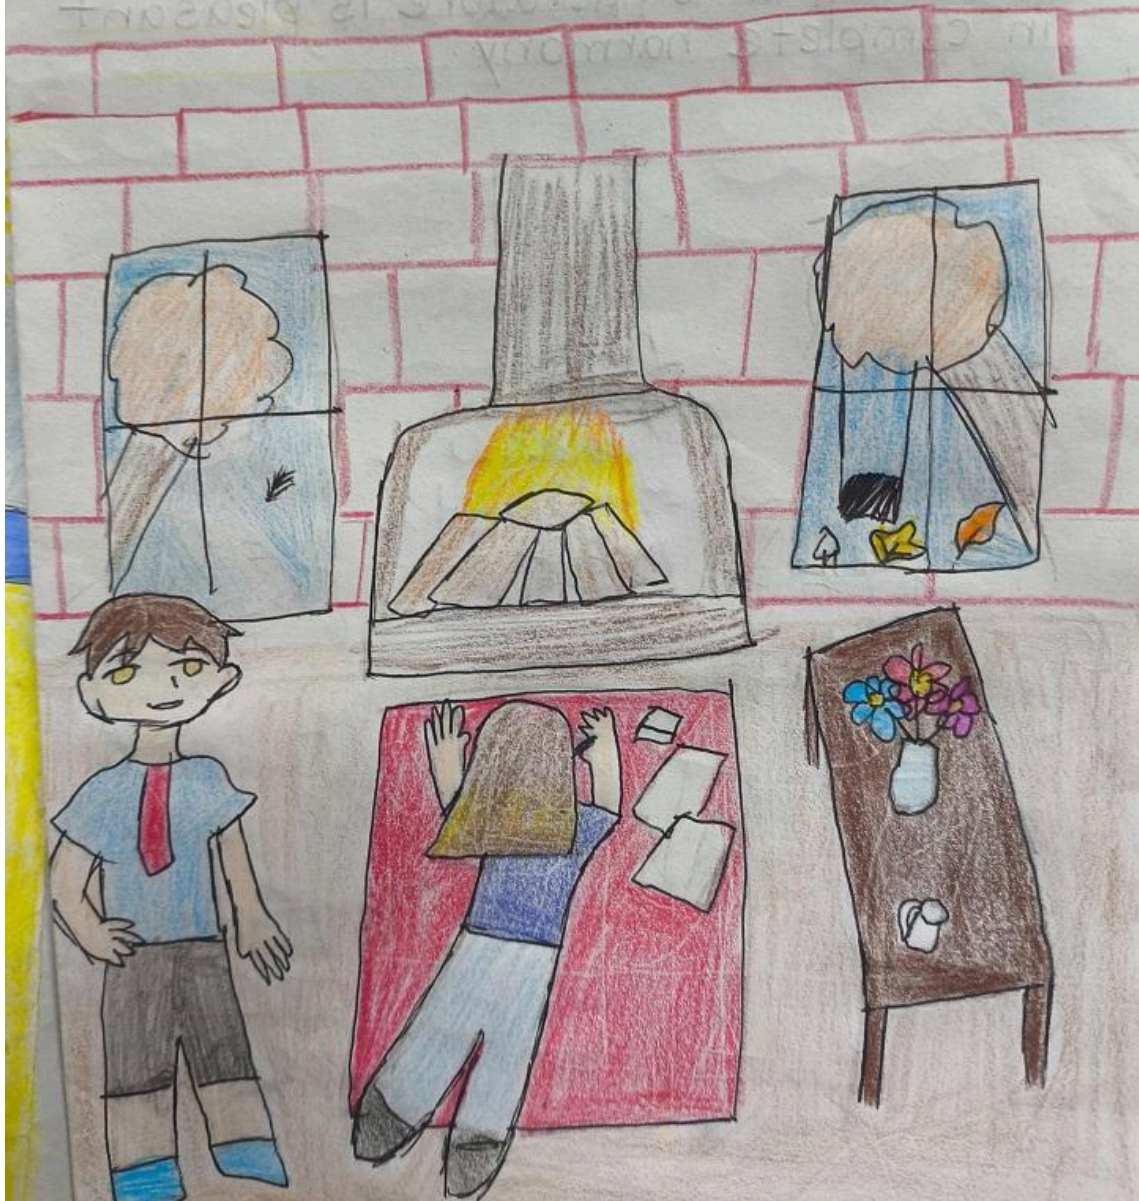

A few days later, they met Summer, the sister,
Helena, asked:

- Good afternoon, what's happening in the summer?
- In my time, the sun hits the ground, the temperature rises and an ice cream goes very well.

After three months, at the Statue of Liberty we met Autumn, my parents talked to her:

- Hello autumn. What happens in your season?

- In my season, the leaves fall, the winds increase and temperature is pleasant in complete harmony.

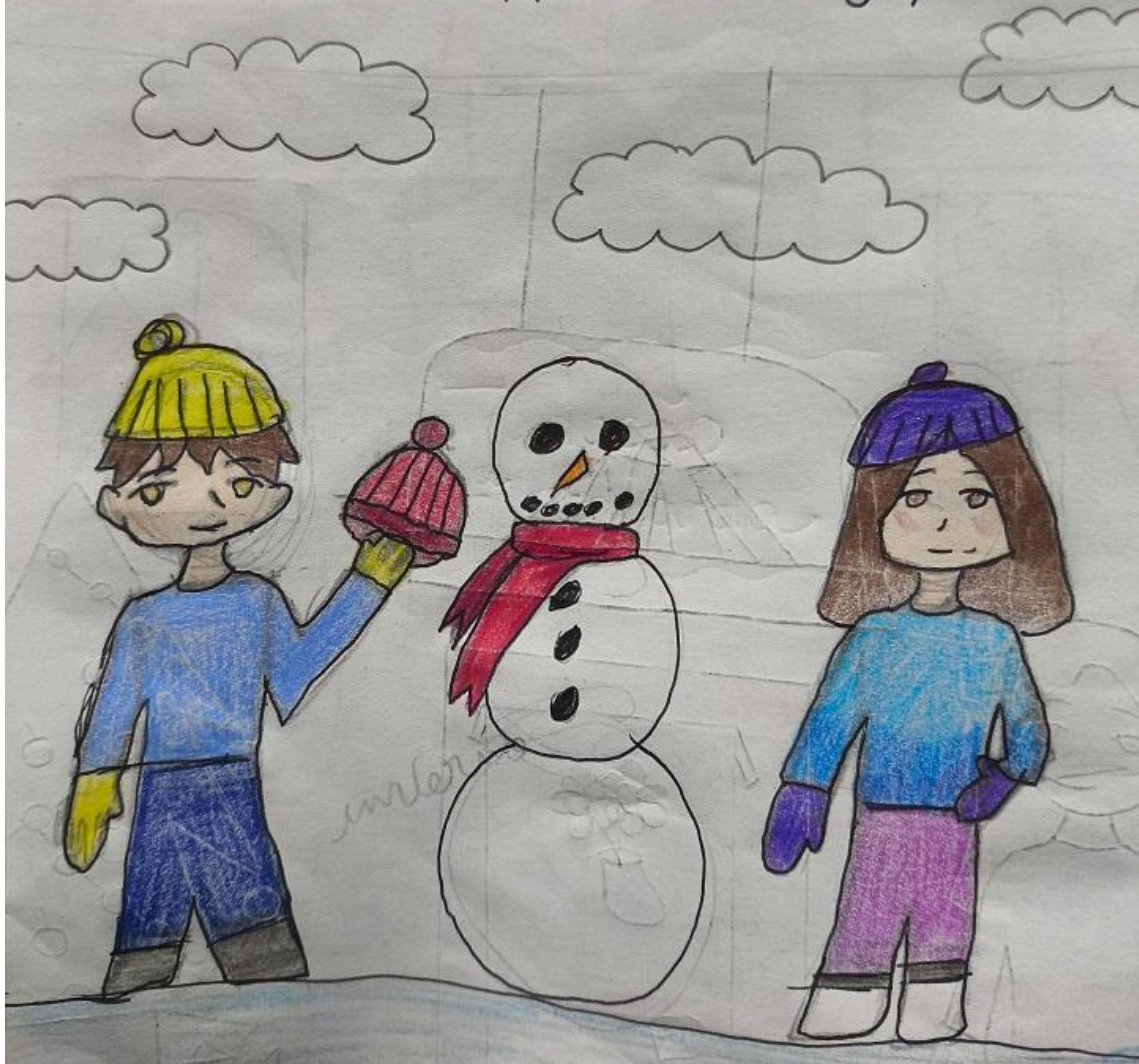

Three months later, winter arrived and they went to the hotel to spend Christmas Eve. When we woke up we were faced with winter, Lucas really liked it and asked:

- What happens in winter?

- In winter, the weather gets cold, the snow falls and Christmas arrives full of happiness and joy.
